Dear Sirs:-

The writer, while in France, picked up a copper coin. The coin has plain edges somewhat off centre of the stamping and on the front carries these initials .DVC.D. BVILLORA. On the reverse side it carries the date 1642 and D and three large fleur-de-lis and the letters DOVBLE.

If consistent, will you kindly advise whether this coin has other than intrinsic value?

Yours truly,

James J. Boyle

Dear Sir:

in reply to your favour of June 28th, I possibly would be able to identify the coin about which you write if you would send me a rubbing, made as per the enclosed. I doubt very much if your coin has any premium.

very truly yours,

Secretary
